The market of PET BCF yarns grows with a rapid pace. Yet in 1999 the world production capacity of PET BCF yarns was approximately 18 tons per year. In 2009 production capacity in the USA, which have the major share of the world PET BCF yarns production, made above 130 thousand tons per year.

By 2030 PET production growth is projected to be at the rate of 39% if compared to 2016. Annual growth is about 2.6%.

Production and consumption of PET BCF yarns are boosted by the following factors:

- cheap PET chips are available in huge quantities, and the price of PET chips is more stable than that of PP and PA6;
- PET BCF yarns are very bulky and have good UV-stability;
- PET BCF yarns have a silky smooth touch and a very high luster, which improves quality of final products;
- PET is easy to recycle.

An additional advantage for setting up the production unit within “Mogilev” FEZ is the fact that OAO Mogilevkhimvolokno that manufactures PET chips is a FEZ resident and can supply the new production with the PET chips on preferential terms of FEZ. The close location of the enterprises excludes transport expenses as well.
